THRONG OF 3000 EXPECTED ON MAY 3 AT BIG G. W. MASQUE IN AUDITORIUM

Many Novelties Feature Carnival; Distinguished Group of Patrons to Attend; Select Music Engaged; Atlantic City Master Prepares Hall for Occasion; Roof Garden Opened.

George Washington University's biggest event, the May Masquerade Carnival, to be held Tuesday, May 3, will, from all reports, exceed the best of previous social affairs. The huge Arcade Auditorium, Fourteenth and Park Road Northwest, will be turned over to the George Washington merry-makers for the entire night, and two renowned orchestras have been engaged to insure the best possible music for the dancing, which will last from 9.00 p. m. until 2.30 a. m. A large representation of national and civic officials, together with those of the University, will add unusual prestige to the occasion. "Pick" Shea, chairman of the Carnival committees, reports that ticket sales indicate the presence of more than 3,000 persons.

The preparation of the auditorium is in the hands of Mr. Willard, a man who for 22 years was director of the Atlantic City pier. Under his supervision many changes are being made to adapt the auditorium to the needs of the occasion. A picturesque roof garden, leading from the balcony in the front of the hall, will be open for the first time. It will be elaborately decorated as a Chinese pergola—lanterns, everything.

Two of the city's best orchestras have been engaged, and occupying opposite ends of the hall, will play alternately for the dances. By this arrangement, continuous dancing from 9.30 p. m. to 2.30 a. m. will be the order of the evening, and the large orchestras will rival each other in delighting the merry-makers.

A dozen novelty dances will add zest to the program. Although the order of the feature dances is being kept secret, the gay crowd will participate in such novelties as the spotlight dance, during which red, white, and blue lights will play upon the patrons of the terpsichorean art; the moonlight dance, which speaks for itself; and a lucky number dance, the fortunate couple to receive a prize. The crowd will then be pleasantly entertained by watching their instructors indulge in a dance exclusively for the pedagogues of the Buff and Blue. At a given time hundreds of balloons will be released, and the athletic prowess of the young gallants will be tested in their attempts to appease the cries of the little ones. Later in the evening there will be a confetti float, during which the air will be filled with the dazzling bits of brightness showered upon the multitude.

BOXING STARTS SHOW:

The varied assortment of vaudeville will be presented by talent of George Washington. Much interest is being manifested in the first act, a boxing match between John Loehler and Russell Mason. In this pugilistic engagement John Loehler will attempt to wrest the championship from "Kid" Mason, the librarian, who has been kept in training taming the wild hordes that crowd into his domain daily. The bout will last until a knockout is registered. Act number two will present Tex Nall as Mme. Jazzamova, George Washington's own little Bimbo, assisted by Jack Dally and "Cam" Burton, his partners, of no mean ability. This will be followed by a few songs by the Glee Club. Besides these performances, representatives of Georgetown and Catholic University will present acts of their own, thus making vaudeville show the intercollegiate spirit on the program.

And supply of favors and prizes on hand to do their part in making the crowd make merry.

500 STUDENTS ASK TRUSTEES FOR HOLIDAY

A petition for a holiday on Wednesday, May 4, the day following the May Carnival, signed by more than 500 students, was handed to the Student Council at the meeting last Tuesday night and has been referred to the Board of Trustees. The holiday was asked for so that all students could attend the carnival the previous night who would be unable to go otherwise on account of their studies, and owing to the fact that those who did attend could not prepare their lessons for the following day. There was such a congestion on the campus at the first appearance of the petition that five or six of them had to be prepared to accommodate all the signers. "Sure, I'll sign for a holiday any time," was the usual reply, although some wary ones, remembering having once been told never to sign anything without first reading it, took their time perusing it, and some even shook their heads, although this was very unusual. The outlook is favorable and we are expecting any day that a general holiday will be announced by the Secretary of the University.

Trick hats will be presented at the door, and noise-makers will be distributed throughout the evening. These and many other things will help make the party as hilarious as desirable. Novel prizes will be given for the best costumed couple, the most attractive, and the most original costume. The judges will be the chairmen of the various carnival committees.

Manager Willard is making special efforts to have the auditorium looking at its best on the night of May 3rd. Boxes will be reserved in the balcony for the patrons and patronesses, faculty and alumni. The balconies will be draped with American flags, four huge banners for George Washington, Georgetown, Catholic University and the University of Maryland, and the fraternity banners, decorating the boxes, will add more color to the scene. Parts of the hall will "say it with flowers."

Returns made by those conducting the sale of tickets indicate most emphatically that more than 1,500 couples will be there to take the lid off the greatest social event in the history of George Washington University. A notable group of patrons and patronesses has been invited, including President and Mrs. Harding, Gen. Pershing, Cabinet officials, President and Mrs. William Miller Collier, members of the Board of Trustees of G. W. U., the President's Council, the President's Select Council, the Board of Managers, Deans of the departments, District of Columbia Commissioners, the Board of Education, and the principals of the high schools.

Carnival Features

The May Masquerade Carnival will be held in the Arcade Auditorium.

The date is May 3. The time 9:30 p. m.

The Arcade is at Fourteenth and Park road, northwest, convenient to two car lines.

Two jazz bands will furnish continuous music from 9:30 to 2:00.

University officials, District of Columbia officials, members of Congress and members of the Board of Trustees will be in attendance. Special boxes have been reserved.

Those who want to watch the Masquerade will find that provision has been made for more than 500 to look on.

There will be special features during the masquerade. Special dances have been arranged, musical features, vaudeville stunts and special stunt numbers have been listed.

Georgetown University, Catholic University and Maryland University students as well as the Washington High Schools and Preparatory Schools have been invited.

The May Masquerade Carnival will be the biggest event of the year at George Washington.

G. U., C. U., MD. MAKE CARNIVAL INTERCOLLEGIATE

Hundred Per Cent Support From University Organizations; High Schools Lend Aid.

The May Fete Carnival may readily be termed intercollegiate, as Georgetown University, Catholic University, and the University of Maryland are each taking a prominent part. Georgetown University and C. U. have both taken 100 tickets, and Maryland has taken 50. The evening's program will include vaudeville acts by both Georgetown and C. U.

All the various organizations of the University have given their support, and the following organizations have a representative of their own and are disposing of tickets to their members: Alumni Association, Elmer Louis Keyser, Secretary of the University; College of Engineering, Walter Scott; Law School, Lois McDaniel; Medical School, John Paul Earnest, Jr.; Student Council, Cameron Burton; Cherry Tree, C. Walter Parker; University Hatchet, Eugene Thomas and John Ladd; Chemical Society, Gordon Tibbits; Dramatic Club, "Joe" Houston; Art Society, Winifred DeVoe; Architectural Club, Bill Harris; Spanish Club, J. J. Palmer, Jr.

Additional support is being given by the Washington high schools, 250 tickets having been distributed among Western, Central, Tech, Eastern and Business. The fact that this affair falls on a school night does not serve to dampen the enthusiasm of these future Hatchettes, who are taking a keen interest in this novel function, the first of its kind.

Notice

The Student Council has set May 1 as the last day on which petitions for nomination to the Student Council may be presented. The election will be held May 5, 6, and 7.

EXTENSIVE TICKET SALES CAMPAIGN TO RUN TO MAY 3

Local Jazz Orchestras Aid; Street Cars Placarded; Co-eds Use High-Pressure Sales Methods; Song Written.

A unique ticket sales campaign was started Friday at the Law School and in Columbian College when "Dutch" Whelan and Brooks Johns, the two famous Washington jazz artists, gave the support of their offices gratis by playing for the students between classes. The performance was repeated on Saturday. While these jazz artists played "as no man played before," popular co-eds corralled the onlookers, and by the use of high-pressure sales methods sold hundreds of tickets.

This scheme of disposing of tickets was most successful and helped considerably to boost the mark toward the 1,500 couples goal.

This week is "sales campaign week." Street cars will be placarded with announcements of the carnival in order that the public may know how George Washington University puts on a party. All local papers will give publicity, and the manager of the Arcade will turn over his advertisement to the event.

Leon X. Katz, C. C. '24, has written a catchy song to the tune of "Down by the O-H-I-O." Get a copy and learn it; think it; whistle it!

MASQUERADE CARNIVAL SONG.

Be at the Carnival,
It's on the third of May.
That Carnival
Buy now and don't delay.
Come up with your pal
Or bring up your gal
There'll be a million novelties
That will make you gay.
Up at the Carnival
I want to tell you that
The whole school will be there.
It's for the sake of
Good old Gee-Double You;
It won't let out until
It's quarter past two.
Come to that Carnival,
Put on your masquerade—
We'll see you there!

UNIVERSITY AND CIVIC OFFICIALS WILL ATTEND MAMMOTH CARNIVAL

President Harding Invited; Commissioners Accept; School Heads Send Enthusiastic Acceptances.

Acceptances of invitations to the George Washington Masquerade Carnival have been received from the University officials, representatives of the departments of the United States Government, the District of Columbia Commissioners, members of the local Board of Education, principals of the local high schools, and members of the faculties of adjacent educational institutions. Strenuous efforts are being made to have President and Mrs. Harding, Gen. Pershing, Postmaster General Hays, and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt to attend the affair and help make the night all the more memorable.

Scores of invitations have been sent to the hosts of members and friends of the University and the Arcade Auditorium will hold an exceptional group of patrons and patronesses on the night of May 3. In addition to President and Mrs. William Miller Collier, members of the Board of Trustees of George Washington University, the President's Council, the President's Select Council, the Board of Managers of Student Activities, the Deans of the Departments of the University, officials of the United States Government, the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, members of the Board of Education, and principals of the high schools have received invitations to the mammoth carnival.

Dr. William Miller Collier, President of the University, replied: "It will give Mrs. Collier and me great pleasure to attend if we can possibly do so."

D. C. COMMISSIONERS ACCEPT.

Each of the District Commissioners sent a most enthusiastic acceptance. Commissioner James F. Oyster wrote: "I greatly appreciate your courtesy in inviting me, and if it is at all possible I will be glad to attend." Commissioner Cuno H. Rudolph replied: "I greatly appreciate your remembering me, and if possible will endeavor to be present for a short time at least." Col. C. W. Kutz, Engineer Commissioner, replied: "Mrs. Kutz and I will be delighted to drop in for a short time that evening." Col. Sherrill, Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds, and Mrs. Sherrill assured the committee of their presence.

Dr. Frank W. Ballou, Superintendent of Public Schools, replied: "I trust that it may be possible for Mrs. Ballou and me to attend." Mr. Harry O. Hine, Secretary of the Board of Education, wrote: "It will certainly be my intention to join this happy group of merry-makers." Mr. Frank O. Daniel, Principal of the McKinley Manual Training School, replied: "I think Mrs. Daniel and I will enjoy looking in."

FRATERNITIES ARRANGE BOXES FOR CARNIVAL

Evans Leads in Ticket Sale; Fraternities' Response Indicates Large Turnout of Greeks.

Fraternity boxes will be one of the many features of the Masquerade Carnival. All the fraternities will have boxes decorated with their banners in keeping with the custom established at the annual Junior Prom. The men in charge of tickets for the different fraternities have pledged themselves 50 tickets each, making a total of about 500. The following is a list of these men, and their fraternities: Sigma Chi, Earle Manson; Kappa Sigma, Irvine Black; Kappa Alpha, Howard Espey; Theta Delta Chi, Bob Colflesh; Phi Sigma Kappa, Waldo Clarke; Delta Tau Delta, Edward Evans; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Fred Geler; Sigma Phi Epsilon, J. Paul Conner; Sigma Kappa, James Duggan; and Phi Alpha, Sam Dodek.

Eddie Evans, of Delta Tau Delta, is the first to report the disposal of all his tickets. Samuel Dodek, of Phi Alpha, reports the sale of 35. While these men so far have the lead, the others are close on their heels, and there is every indication that they will soon have reports equally as favorable.

Now, Let's Play Together

Students of George Washington University, there are a lot of us—so many, in fact, that we can put across anything, if we want to. The past has proved that this is no idle boast. Especially throughout this, the Centennial year, have remarkable achievements been noted.

We've worked together and accomplished many creditable results. We've met the high scholarship standards, given activities a spectacular boost, and taxed ourselves to pay for the advancement. We've worked hard for the good old U, and the results are evident and always will be.

But now, let's play together! Let's end up the best year of all with the most memorable good time ever conceived. Let's all get together and put across the May Masquerade Carnival with the same old pep we've shown ever since the football season started. You know the time, May 3rd; the place, the Arcade Auditorium; the crowd, all G. W. U. and our friends. There'll be something doing every minute. Two of the town's best orchestras will rival each other in assisting the dancers to trip the "light fantastic toe." There'll be four snappy acts, while you're resting your toes for the moonlight dance, the spotlight dance, the various college dances, the balloon float, the confetti float, or any of the other stunts. An abundance of favors and prizes will be on hand. All for the sole purpose of having a royal good time together before we pack up and go home with the glorious Centennial year but a memory.

Let your friends in on it, too. They've heard of our athletic triumphs, they've read our publications, they've seen us at work. Now, let them see us play. Let's all get together—faculty, students, friends—and show everybody how George Washington University puts across anything it wants to, and we'll have the time of our lives making the May Masquerade Carnival an unbeatable success.
